GENESEO GHANA COLLABORATIVE

The Geneseo-Ghana Collaborative is a multi-purposed initiative supported by SUNY Geneseo, the Livingston County Chamber of Commerce, and educational and governmental institutions in Ghana. Currently, seven Geneseo academic departments, two student organizations, and two community organizations partner, or have proposed partnerships, with Ghana's public school system, Judicial Service, and one of its universities. The purposes of the Geneseo-Ghana Collaborative are to:

1. provide international education opportunities for Geneseo and Ghanaian university students and K-12 students
2. provide international research opportunities for Geneseo and Ghanaian university students and faculty
3. provide professional development opportunities to judges and justices in the Ghanaian Judicial Service
4. provide international community service opportunities for Geneseo students and professionals, including
  - enhance university contributions to the partnerships between the Livingston County and New Juaben (Ghana) chambers of commerce
  - develop connections between the SUNY Geneseo Center for Women in Business and the New Juaben (Ghana) Women's Leadership Committees.

The Geneseo-Ghana Collaborative is designed as an on-going entity and fully expects to expand the number and scope of its partnerships.
